The Monthly Newsletter of
 House of Prayer Lutheran Church

February 2018

Dear House of Prayer family and friends,

A colleague recently sent me a photo of candy hearts with Ash Wednesday sayings: ASH 2 ASH, U R DUST, REPENT, and U R LOVED. It was a little disconcerting at first, but I'm actually quite taken by them. They are strangely fitting, since Ash Wednesday falls on Valentine's Day this year. How the church tells time and how the secular world tells time meet oddly again this Easter – which falls on April Fools' Day. That'll preach. Look for a sermon title like "The Joke's on You, Death." (Easter candy heart sentiments could be #LOVE, WICKED COOL, XOXO, and BEST DAY.) In case you're wondering, the last time Ash Wednesday and Valentine's Day were on the same day was back in 1945, but it will apparently happen again in both 2024 and 2029.

For the whole season from Ash Wednesday, through Lent, and all the way to Easter, we live more mindfully with God's message "U R LOVED." Marked with a cross of oil at our baptism, we are claimed by God as beloved children. The cross of ashes we receive on Ash Wednesday reminds us that we are beloved and mortal children. Lent gives us time to reflect on God's love, especially as we know it in Jesus' life, death, and resurrection, and on our response to that remarkable, undeserved, TRUE LOVE.

Traditional ways to observe Lent include prayer, fasting, and acts of love and kindness. We don't do such things for what we get out of them, but because they focus our attention and can bring us insight or unexpected gifts. I hope you've read Bishop Hazelwood's article, "A Church Being Reborn." in the most recent copy of Living Lutheran. It's right in the center of the issue. There are also paper copies at church, as well as an attachment along with the Tidings. It's a clear-eyed, sometimes daunting, always hopeful discussion starter about what it means (and will mean) to be the church in a changing world. In the section on Spiritual Vitality, the bishop notes that ". . . even in our healthiest congregations, vast majorities of people answer yes to the [assessment tool] question, "While spirituality is important to me, I just don't have time for it right now." Whatever our own personal answer to that question might be, perhaps Lent is just the right time to take time – to make time – to tend to our spiritual lives. We might do that in more faithfulness to worship or to prayer. We might fast from indulging our whims and wants so that we become more attuned to what we actually need – and to what our neighbors need and may lack. We might intentionally look for opportunities to be kind, to show love, to care for one another and for God's world. Last week, I followed a car with a bumper sticker that said, "Be Kinder Than Necessary." Lent might be just the right time to offset some of the lack of kindness – and the downright meanness -- in our society with simple acts of kindness.

From the darkness of December, we move through Lent as the days lengthen and the whole earth prepares for new life yet again. We yearn not just for the natural cycle of life, death, and new life around us, but for the distinctly Christian good news about the power of God over even death and the gift of God that is new life in Christ. It has already been given to us, and it's always good news. Remember, U R DUST and U R LOVED.

Grace and peace,
Pastor

Council Retreat 2018

On January 19th and 20th, Church Council met for its annual retreat – a total 8 hour session held at HOP and in President Ed Martin's offices in South Hingham. Almost all of us were there for the whole session, along with staff members Lenae, Kristen and Barbara.

After spending some time preparing for the Congregational meeting to be held the next day, we spent the first portion of the meeting catching up on each other's lives, concerns, and thoughts about House of Prayer. We talked about how affirming the response to the Capital campaign continues to be (and how much we love the Fellowship Hall floor☺). We are blessed with a generous congregation and a building which serves God's purpose here well. We can't wait for the new capital projects and a refreshed interior of the church! We also talked about a sense of renewed energy – Vicar Jonathan's gifts to us, the new adult forum program, our diverse social ministries, our outreach to other faiths through the joint VBS program and the interfaith response to the Texas disaster, and as always, our music and worship services (including our lay preaching and the emphasis on the common cup) which sustain and strengthen us. In our celebration of the Reformation, we have opened some new doors and ways of thinking about our Lutheran faith. It's exciting! On the flip side, we continue to worry about how many tasks many of our members undertake and the leadership gaps that exist. We reflected on our meeting last year and although we feel we are known as a welcoming congregation, we haven't made as much progress as we had hoped in broadening our diversity. And we worried about our future in a society which has seen some devastating events occur over the past year, and where Sundays are beginning to play a different role in family life.

These themes followed through as we began to think about the year ahead. Our hopes centered around growth and inclusion and the ability to find our right role as God's church in a society that is seeing increasing division in the difficult political times in which we find ourselves. We worry that anxiety about our future will limit our ability to serve that role in faith. And mostly we worry that nothing will change.

As we did last year, Pastor then led us in considering scripture that might resonate with who and where we are right now. Many passages came to our minds but the one that resonated most was Mark 1:14-20 – where Jesus calls the disciples to cast aside their nets and follow him. We pray that we can emulate the faith and courage of the disciples as we move forward in 2018.

On a personal note, this will be my last Council retreat as my term ends this year. It has been a highlight of my service to HOP and in my spiritual journey.

As Holy Week approaches, Naomi Just will focus on artwork related to the Last Supper. Naomi taught art history at Lesley, so she's got great images and information to share.

Capital Campaign Projects Update

Here is the line-up for capital projects this Spring. In February, the fellowship hall will be finished with heat diffusers, baseboard trim and new chairs. The exterior wall contractor bid process has resumed and, subject to congregational approval for the expenditure, the project will begin immediately after Easter Sunday (April 1). Tree removal and landscaping beautification for the front of the church is next on the list; the timing depends on the completion of the exterior wall project.

Capital Campaign Fundraisers – March 4 and April 22

For all ages! Events will be held in the fellowship hall right after coffee hour. There will be a light luncheon provided by Parish Life.

Sign-making party. No "skills" required. You paint a $25 4"x24" or $15 4"x12" (for the kids) sign the color of your choice, then adhere a fun saying onto it. Large variety of phrases to choose from, see picture below for samples.

Painting party with an Earth Day theme. Heather Martin will be taking us, young and old, step by step through painting a picture you will be proud to hang on your wall! No experience or painting prowess needed, honestly!

SOCIAL MINISTRY REPORT

(Kathleen Almand, Cathy Martin, Co –Chairpersons)

Souper Bowl of Caring

A collection will be taken on Super Bowl Sunday, February 4, after worship service by the Confirmation Students, proceeds to aid world hunger.

Blankets, Sheets, Towels Drive

Thanks to all who donated to the blanket, twin sheets and towels drive to aid Father Bill's. The collection bin was over-flowing, and Ann Rasmussen has already made one if not more trips to deliver to Father Bill's in Quincy.

Honduras Trip has been cancelled due to the political situation there.

The Sunday School is collecting "gently used and new books" for book bags for displaced families at Carolina Hill, a shelter in Marshfield, or in the hotels along Rt. 53 in Norwell.

On January 7, the Social Ministry Committee met to review programs for the coming years. Coming up in March we will prepare a bag lunch for Father Bill's, ELCA chicks and peeps and Easter Boxes for Wellspring. April will find us providing backpacks and school supplies for Ascentria. An Ascentria representative will join us at a future meeting.

A Habitat work day is planned for late March or April. The Duxbury Habitat building project is coming along.

And, of course, May will bring us to our 4th Annual "God's Work, our Hands" project in conjunction with the Hingham Senior Center.

Our next meeting is scheduled for Sunday, April 15 after worship.

Many thanks to Brandy and Madison Hugo for hosting the delayed Epiphany dinner on the evening before Groundhog Day. A good time was had by all and the Yankee Swap was fun!

This past month has flown by. School is back in session, and Sunday School is no different! As we start the New Year, we also look to the New Testament for where our stories come from. With Lent starting this month, our focus will be mostly there.

Feb 9/10 is a confirmation weekend event at church. See below for additional dates related to confirmation.

Feb 11th will be the Lenten Event for all ages to participate in during Sunday School time. We will be making pretzels, scratch art crosses, foam sticker crosses to send to our homebound members, and work on cutting pictures for South Shore Collaborative for making vision boards for those unable to speak to make their needs known. There will be birthday bags for the children to decorate for Wellspring. Wellspring has said that these are so appreciated by families. The supplies that can be included are frosting, cake mix, cupcake liners, birthday candles, sprinkles, small prizes, and anything else that might make a child's birthday special. We are seeking donations of these items, thank you!

Feb 18th we will NOT have Sunday School due to February vacation, but there will be a WINTER WALK hosted by Phoebe Morad on and around our church grounds during Sunday School time. We hope friends of all ages will stick around to check out our surroundings and enjoy a walk together. Dress warmly and bring your boots!

Feb 25th Sunday School resumes as usual.

We are still working on collecting new and gently used children's books to put into repurposed canvas bags that Sandy, Vicki, and June have offered to sew up. These bags will be delivered either to Carolina Hill (shelter in Marshfield) or to hotels on Rt. 53 for displaced families with children.

Our next Christian Education committee meeting will be held on Feb 11th after the Lenten Event. All are welcome to join and share ideas with us! Bring a lunch to enjoy as we chat.

Confirmation: Upcoming Dates

Our first weekend in 2018 will be February 9/10 with the topic of the Ten Commandments. The next dates for you to keep on your schedule are: March 2/3 - topic the Bible (backup weekend March 9/10). May 4/5 will be the topic of Communion (with backup dates of May 11/12). Calumet is June 22 thru June 26.

Please contact Vicki Oman, Phoebe Morad, Pastor Henry or Sandy Swanson with any questions.

MUSIC NOTES FROM LENAEE

Happy Epiphany! January has been a bit of a challenge for the choirs. Three of our Adult Choir members have gone to warmer climates for the winter, two regular members have stopped singing with us, and there's been some illness and health issues. Still, it seems we've been able to pull off our anthems with whoever is able to make it on Sundays, and for that I am grateful! Having said that, we would still always welcome new members!

After a great Children's Musical on January 7th, (congrats to the nine children who participated! Very proud of all of them, three for whom it was their first musical!) in Children's Choir, we're back to our six "regular" members, but between an unexpected trip for me to FL, illness and conflicts, we haven't even been able to have our "complete" cast party where the kids get to see themselves on video! Hopefully this week!

Remember Lent begins with our Ash Wednesday service on February 14th at 7:15. Then our midweek Wednesday evening events will begin with soup supper at *6:00 p.m. (please note new time) and Holden Evening Prayer at *6:45 p.m. (please note new time). Emily Boyd will once again be singing the cantor parts for us on several of the Wednesday evenings. Both choirs will be singing during Lent, and I also hope to have some of our instrumentalists share their talents with us during this season.

Don't forget to have your photo taken in the hallway by the gray cloth with Kim Boyd for the church directory. It would be wonderful if we could have everyone's updated photos and information by the end of the month as church council had hoped.

Ramblings with Ed

Here I am writing to you from somewhere over Canada heading to China. Technology is amazing that I can write this and send it back to the Tidings office for publication before I land in about 12 hours!

After our semi-annual meeting a couple weeks ago, I was reminiscing in my head. As my term is quickly coming to a close I thought, what has House of Prayer accomplished in the last 5 ½ years? The answer is a lot. Our very generous congregation has given us a balanced budget and fulfilled it! We are still working at finishing the $500,000 Capital Campaign, but have made significant strides in getting to the final number, and our Social Ministry program is very strong, to list a few items. We have done a lot!

But there is one thing I wanted to see happen in these past years. I wanted to see House of Prayer grow in people, stewardship and mission! Needless to say, this is a task, which all churches have been and still are struggling with. If you read Living Lutheran in January, you will find a pull out section in the middle written by our own Bishop Jim. He gives his thoughts, ideas, and roads we might go down to get to the future church. But he is quick to point out there are no road maps to get wherever we want to go. We need to use his ideas as well as our own to get to a very nondescript point in our future!

One thought I had as I was preparing to write this article was to look right in our own homes and families. Have you ever asked your children or grandchildren why they don't participate in a church or its programs? This might be helpful in gathering information as to our direction.

What is our next step?

First, I would read the article by the Bishop and gather your thoughts.

Next I would speak to your kids and read up on the generations younger than us.

I would take this information and write down your findings and pass them to the council to help us discern our direction.

As the Bishop said, "This is hard but the church isn't dying, it's being reborn!"

In the end, this is up to all of us!

Celebrate the re-birth!
